

Distance Study Student Information Sheet

GoToMeeting (Online Video Conferencing Tool)

What is Distance Study?

Distance study is a mode of delivery where face-to-face contact with the trainer in classes on campus is replaced by online study and/or online engagement in learning activities, which may be in real time or non-real time. Please refer to the Distance Study Policy for further information regarding student eligibility and responsibilities.

1. What is GoToMeeting?

- IKON utilises GoToMeeting, an online video conferencing tool, to communicate in real time with distance education students and for other meeting needs.
- Attendees can join from a Mac, PC, iPad, iPhone or Android device by clicking a link provided by the meeting organiser or by entering a meeting ID.
- Other functionality exists within GoToMeeting inclusive of utilising a web cam, viewing the presenters screen or sharing your screen for the presenter (meeting organizer) to view.

2. Joining an online meeting

- Before each meeting you will receive an email invitation similar to this: to join the meeting, simply click on the link in the email (shown underlined below).
- Please note this is a unique code for each meeting.
